University of North Carolina at Asheville
April 6-8, 2006

NCUR® 20 at the University of North Carolina at Asheville

The National Conference on Undergraduate Research (NCUR®) returns to its birthplace this year at the University of North Carolina at Asheville, April 6-8, 2006. Founded at UNCA in 1986, NCUR® returned to our campus in 1987, and then traveled to other Universities throughout the United States before returning to UNCA for its 10th anniversary in 1996. As the 20th anniversary of NCUR® approaches, we are pleased to host the conference again in Spring 2006. This year's conference welcomes 2,200+ undergraduate research students and faculty from colleges and universities across the United States.

Students will present their research in oral and poster sessions scheduled throughout the UNCA campus. Additional oral presentations will be made by faculty in the Faculty Administrator Network sessions. An opening plenary session, featuring internationally visible artist Mel Chin, will be held off-campus at the Thomas Wolfe Auditorium in downtown Asheville. Additional plenary sessions, featuring award-winning chemist Geraldine Richmond and internationally renowned writer Ilan Stavans, will be held on campus in UNCA's Lipinsky Auditorium.
